Our Story

We met in 2006 through a mutual friend and instantly connected. Amy has two children, Ryan & Erica, from her first marriage and it was important to her that we knew this relationship would last before introducing the kids to Jeff. In 2007 our relationship was tested when Jeff was offered a job in Ann Arbor. This put over an hour drive between us and we quickly realized that we couldn't be apart. So we relocated to start our family together and were married in 2008 on the beach in Key West.

What Brought Us to Adoption

Ryan and Erica have brought us great joy and we have all come together as a family, but we always planned to have a child together. After coming to terms with the fact that this could not happen the old fashioned way we were drawn to adoption. We believe that this is the path that God has laid out for us and we are excited to grow our family through adoption.

Our Hopes, Open Adoption & Relationship with Birth Family

We promise to raise our child with love, respect, trust, and honesty. We promise to guide and teach them as they grow to becoming an independent and responsible person. We promise that they will know you and the loving sacrifice that you made. We want an open adoption where our child knows you and you know them. Through phone calls, emails, photos and visits we hope to develop a relationship with you. We know that this was a difficult decision so we wish you all the best and offer you our thoughts and prayers throughout this time.
