Our Story

We met online in the summer of 2014 and had our first date at Uncle Ray's Dairyland. As we got to know each other, we quickly learned how different our backgrounds were. Sam's family is Jewish, lives in a major city & his parents are vegetarians. Danielle's family is Catholic, lives in a small town & her father worked as a butcher and carpenter. On Halloween, we invited everyone over to carve pumpkins. Even with seemingly large differences, our families got along very well. Through that experience we realized no matter how different people are, we all share common bonds. On New Year's Eve 2016 we got married in Danielle's childhood church under a Jewish Chuppah.

What Brought Us to Adoption

We believe there are many ways to grow a family and feel adoption is uniquely special. We both grew up with friends and family who are adopted; we have experienced first hand how unconditional love is universal and extends beyond a biological family unit. Early in our relationship, Danielle expressed her desire to adopt. Sam expressed interest as well, and starting our family through adoption became one of our goals as a couple. We feel ready to begin growing our family through adoption.

Our Hopes, Open Adoption & Relationship with Birth Family

Health, happiness, and family are priorities that we value. We promise to be honest with you about who we are and hope we get a chance to meet. We would gladly welcome an open adoption, as we feel it is healthy for a child to know both their birth parents and adoptive parents. However, we would also understand if a relationship may not be best for you, and we would respect your decision either way. Whatever you decide, you will always remain a part of our family's story.

These individuals have met all requirements of the State of Michigan and Catholic Social Services of Washtenaw County to become adoptive parents, may fit your situation and are waiting to welcome a child into their home. If you would like more information about this family, please contact:
