Our Story

We've been married for nine years. We first met in middle school at a week of summer camp, but we didn't see each other again until we were in college, and it would be at that very same camp! We got to know each other over the course of our college years. We think that the secret recipe for us has been that we were friends first, and that has really made all of the difference for us.

What Brought Us to Adoption

Five years ago, we moved back to Michigan from Indiana. We were raised here, and both of our families live in Michigan. We knew that we wanted to be close to our families when we started a family of our own. Since making that move, we've been praying and preparing to start a family. Adoption has always been on our hearts and minds, and when it was clear that having biological children wasn't going to be an option, we knew that our hearts were ready for adoption.

We just moved into our dream home that we spent the last year building. We built it in anticipation of raising our family here.

Our Hopes, Open Adoption & Relationship with Birth Family

Our hope is to build a strong and lasting relationship with the birth family. It's our goal to create a situation that is comfortable and healthy for everyone. We hope that our future children see their birth families as an extension of our family. While, that is our hope, we also seek to honor the wishes of the birth family. We know that there could easily be tension and awkwardness, but we deeply want to have open and honest communication amongst all parties in an effort to support and raise a child in a loving environment.

These individuals have met all requirements of the State of Michigan and Catholic Social Services of Washtenaw County to become adoptive parents, may fit your situation and are waiting to welcome a child into their home.
